2010 Professional Development Seminar

Session Descriptions

Restorative Justice: MO Restorative Justice Coalition

Restorative justice is a new way of orienting crime and harm that focuses on identifying and repairing the harm to the victim, holding the offender accountable, and involving, to the extent possible, all those affected in developing a response. Restorative justice is increasingly being used around the world. Come hear about this evolving area of practice.

Roundtable Discussions: Clerk Panel

Bring any forms you use and look at other forms used in different courts. Attend this session to help answer your questions or just "vent" a little with our panel. If your court has a "problem" area then chances are one of the panel members has also had the same problem, so come discuss your issues and we will help resolve them with you.

OSCA:

Come be enlightened as an OSCA Court Specialist reviews with us the new legislation updates.

Ignition Interlock: Dottie McDonald

Ignition Interlock can sometimes be confusing. In this session you will learn the history behind the device, laws relating to Ignition Interlock, and the mechanics and applications of the device.

Damaged Records: Lisa L. Fox, and Tom Nield, Electronic Records Archivist

Considering the state of Missouri's constantly changing weather, it is no surprise that courts should have a plan in the event of a natural disaster that includes damaged records.

Representatives for the Secretary of State Office will be discussing when and how to begin restoring damaged records. Please bring any concerns you may have regarding your courts plan of action.

Bonds: Bonding Agents

Come listen to Bonding Agents describe how they operate, what laws govern them, what their rights are and what they ARE and ARE NOT allowed to do.

Volunteering: Jeff Chapple

Are you looking for some additional support in your court without additional costs to the city? Have you ever thought of Volunteers? Yes Volunteers helping out for FREE! We will discuss many of the concerns, opportunities, and myths you many be thinking of right now. Volunteer efforts of citizens interested in helping their community grow through personal involvement and offering tremendous support to the court and the city. Come listen and bring a notepad, Jeff will answer all your questions and give you the tools to begin a great addition to your court.
